

Happy Valentine's Lynne

This is Lynne, she resides in our Garden at Parker Place. Most days Lynne has a hard time finding the words she'd like to use, but there are a few she says often John and I love you. John is Lynne's husband, as some already know John is fighting his own battle with cancer. He tries to make it as often as he can to see his beautiful wife but that sometimes doesn't go as planned as he finds himself in the hospital.

On Friday, February 12, 2016 Parker Place held their Valentine Dinner. So we had a girls day. We went to a local diner for lunch, bought a beautiful dress, shoes, earrings, and necklace at the local consignment shop. We also did her make up and hair. She was all smiles and then she was surprised with a visit from John with flowers in hand for their special dinner together.
